3 Lmg's that are all completely obsolete by now since the update that added a community Lmg, and since the best Lmg is in another DLC pack.. Started playing this almost a year ago and got stuck in some early 2-digit level. Mostly due to unpredictable jumping behaviour and sometimes mean level design. Currently trying to finish most of my backlog and so I forced myself through it. I managed and I'm happy about it, but I didn't enjoy the game. OK, I'm no dedicated platformer player and such a person might find it too easy, but among the first achievement I unlocked were those "Die 10 times", "Die 50 times"... *argh*

If you enjoy platforming in general, try it out, but don't expect too much of it. Best grab it in a sale. If you're more like me, better invest your money in another game.. click.need i say anymore?, click after click for 30mins straight? what a waste of time. The game at the same time and pleases and causes anger. Some levels explode the brain. Some pass on the fly .... A garbage-tier mobile port. That's all that really needs to be said about it but to elaborate, white lines on the sides probably because it was originally made for a different aspect ratio, no instructions, invisible buttons and no options. Don't buy this piece of crap, even on a sale.

Game of the year??? Very re-playable as it is only 3 minutes long. Probably one of the best games to come out in the past century.. In this game you learn how to apply rope on things. You will become a certified bondage master if you complete it.. The boxing game experience I've always wanted.. i like that games series, play them all. The darkness within you could have been anything. But it was the worst thing of all. Wooden boxes.. Honestly, This is rather not the best soundtrack ever, but some parts of it can make a mood in short scenes while playing a game itself.... What I totally forget when using this is its security standards. Pretty Neat.
